CAUTIONARY STATEMENT

Further to the cautionary announcement dated 19 June 2021, shareholders are advised that discussions which involve a potential series of transactions at holding company level to transform MedTech into an investment holding company with the economic rights to separate investments or portfolios of investments belonging to the owners of different classes of shares are ongoing. These transactions, if successfully concluded may have a material impact on the price the Company's shares.

Accordingly, shareholders are advised to continue exercising caution when dealing in the company's securities until a full announcement is made.
